COVID-19 Information

EIPH will be hosting webinars for businesses interested in asking questions about the "Guidelines for Opening Up Idaho" and what it means to their business. These are open to all business sectors, including food establishments. The webinars are scheduled on Tuesdays & Thursdays at 3:00 p.m. throughout the end of May. Details can be found on our website at www.EIPH.Idaho.gov.

COVID-19 Q & A of the Day

Question: Is it safe to order from restaurants through delivery services like DoorDash?

Answer: Yes, the food itself is most likely safe. Experts believe that cooked foods aren't a concern unless somebody sneezes on your dinner. The real risk is about your interaction with the delivery person. So, it's best if they can leave the food outside and you can leave your tip outside or leave it electronically. Then, wash your hands after handling the bags and food containers and then again before you eat if it's at a later time.
